

USE OF ICT BASED LIBRARY SERVICES IN COLLEGE LIBRARIES: A STUDY

Dr. Dattatraya T. Kalbande

Librarian, J. Watumull Sadhubella Girls College, Ulhasnagar.

Dist: Thane, Maharashtra.

Abstract:

The decision of research is to deal with the requirements of library benefits in the greater part of the work from decision to report composing. The libraries have data, for example, books, reference books, reference books, magazines, diaries, creations, records, records, devices, maps, e-sources, database investigate paper, overview reports, advance reports, narrative data, government and private association reports, papers and so forth. This data is given to the specialist by library administrations. What's more, specialists can improve inquire about utilizing this data source. An amazing exploration contributes important to the improvement of the propelled society. That is the reason just an OK people group is framed through library administrations. What is the need of library benefits in the whole procedure of research in the present article? What library administrations are accessible for good research. What's more, by what means can be utilized. Its data has been given. In this way, library administrations and e-library administrations are an essential necessity for good research and magnificent society building.

Keyword- ICT, Library administrations, Researcher, Database, E-Resources, College library.

(1) Introduction:

The libraries have books, reference books, reference books, magazines, diaries, creations, archives, documents, contraptions, maps, e-sources, databases and so forth. These data sources are given to the scientist by the different administrations of the library. There is a requirement for library administrations for a decent research. Library administrations have a precious commitment in the entire procedure from the earliest starting point of research as far as possible. Library administrations are expected to inquire about themes, for example, sociology, science and innovation, HR, cinematography, workmanship and so forth. Library and research commitments are significant in the advancement of society.

(2) The Need of ICT Based Library Services

1. Research Proposal

To inquire about any point, first thing is to accumulate writing identified with it. These writings are accessible in reference books, magazines, diaries, inventories, records, documents, journal, maps, e-sources, database in the library. Different research proposition accessible in the library, or investigation of related writing, get the information of the proposition.

2. Explanation problem of Research

Research issues incorporate data from research in books, reference books, diaries, diaries, creations, data from research, data from the foundation, examine goals, inquire about region, look into sort, investigation thoughts, Document, record, contraption, maps, e-source, database structure Are accessible. Research data can be acquired from it.

3. Related literature review

In connection to the writing identified with the writing, the reason for the audit of the writing, the significance of the survey of related writing, the survey of the related writing, the hypothetical audit, commonsense surveys, the points of interest of the introductions of the exploration, and so forth. The library's examination books, reference books, reference books and so forth.

4. Research Assistant and Planning

Data about library look into books, reference books, diaries, diaries, archives, documents, paper, maps, messages, data from library to subject, foundation, test determination, choice of research technique, explore gadget choice, data preparing strategy, Source, database Apart from this, examine done in the past is accessible from pursuit traditions.

5. Analysis of research, interpretation and findings

This section of research is accessible for dissecting, elucidation of different books, books of SPSS programming and related subject related controls.

Along these lines, the prerequisite of library administrations is in most of the work from decision of research to report composing.

(3) Use of ICT based Library Services

(i) Book Interchange Service

Book trade is an administration that is the most normally utilized administration in the library today. This can be known as the principle administration of the library. Today the book trade administration can be given based on Library Management Software. In which book reservation office is likewise accessible. Additionally, the client/specialist can make an impression on the update email or versatile to restore the auspicious book in the library.

(ii) Reference Service

The reference administration is given by and by the library. Utilizing the ICT, the reference writings can be utilized to give a reference administration to a client/specialist utilizing a CD-ROM or a pdf group in the PC.

(iii) Advanced Speaking Service

The most recent data identified with that point can be given to the analyst by means of the Internet or through a propelled data administration by email.

(iv) Selective information service

Specific data administration can be given utilizing a PC as pursues. Two documents are made utilizing the main PC. Client profiles and record profiles, at that point both of these documents are furnished with the near determination data through the PC.

(v) Inter Library Loan Service

The archive or books that are online in the PC's database or on the Internet can trade books among the libraries. This is an inner administration between the two libraries. For which ICT devices are required. That is, we can ask the clients by welcoming them through between library credit administration in the accessible reports or books in different libraries.

(vi) Representation service

The printing administration is a duplication system based administration. By which a duplicate of the report is given to the clients in the libraries. For which a duplicate can be gotten by checking the Xerox machine or the printer associated with the PC.

(vii) Referral service

This administration given by the Internet is expected to help conquer any hindrance between the data source and the client's data. This kind of administration contains data about data or data about clients' needs reports or assets.

(viii) Guidance service

This administration given by the Internet is expected to help conquer any hindrance between the data source and the client's data. This kind of administration contains data about data or data about clients' needs reports or assets.

(ix) Characteristics Service

The synopsis of the current distributed productions in this administration or the important data about that article is given. Aside from this, his very own report is abridged. Such administrations are given just by the exceptional library..

(x) Online Information Service

An online administration is sought online through Google or other web crawlers. The data that is gotten by the client is given to the understudy through email, WhatsApp or pendrive.

(xi) Database service

Today, many genuine libraries have an on the web or disconnected database of various themes. Online database membership can be rounded out. Such a database is over the top expensive. These libraries can be acquired by the individual who can't stand to purchase exclusively.

(xii) E-Resource Services

Today, digital books, e-diaries, e-prods and e-resorts have turned out to be accessible in the online structure. On the online inquiry webpage, the e-diary of INFLIBNET WEB is accessible on the development of the whole nation's college. The membership can be topped off. Also, look solicitations and short pursuit expositions are accessible on the GLOBAL ETD WEB for nations around the globe, some of which give free administrations. The data required from these OPACs and Institutional Repository is likewise accessible. Aside from this, the fundamental data can be acquired utilizing diverse national and worldwide library systems. Accordingly, library e-asset administration analyst might be extremely valuable.

(4) Conclusion:

Hence, the necessity of library administrations is in most of the work from decision of research to report composing. The library can be very much inquired about utilizing look solicitations, investigate papers, review reports, advance reports, narrative data, government and private association reports, diaries, e-assets and so on. Because of the library's different administrations and data and correspondence innovation, the library administrations speed and shortage become possibly the most important factor. The immediate advantage that a client or analyst finds. Along these lines, the job of library administrations is precious for good research.

(5) Reference

1. Kaliammal, A. & Thamaraiselvi, G. (2005). Role of ICTs in Library and Information Science. Delhi: Author Press.
2. Konnur, P. V. (Ed.) et.al. (2008). Model ICT Practices in Librarianship. Bangalore: Indian Academic Library Association.
3. Sampath Kumar, B. T. & Biradar, B. S. (2010). Use of ICT in College Libraries in Karnataka, India: A Survey Program. Retrieved from <http://iccc-ugcinfonet.in/Search/dbresults3.asp>
4. Kumar, P. S. G. (2004). Information Technology: Applications. Delhi: B.R. Publishing Corporation.
5. Mahapatra, M. & Ramesh, D. B. (Ed.). (2004). Information Technology Applications in Libraries: A Textbook for Beginners. Orissa: Reprint.